ICOH and IOSH Symposium 24
Prevention of occupational cancer

Mon, 4 September 2017, 16:00 – 18:00
Room: Orchid 4203

Moderators:
Dr Jukka Takala
International Commission on Occupational Health (ICOH), Singapore

Prof Sergio Iavicoli
International Commission on Occupational Health (ICOH), Italy

Prof Jorma Rantanen
International Commission on Occupational Health (ICOH), Finland

Provisional agenda

16:00 – 16:20 Opening addresses
What can be done to prevent occupational cancer — European view
Michel Servoz
European Commission, France

Experiences in elimination of occupational cancer exposures in Finland
Pirkko Mattila
Minister of Social Affairs and Health, Finland

16:20 – 16:30 Identification of occupational carcinogens. The IARC monographs as the basis for estimating the burden of occupational cancer.
Dr Kurt Straif
International Agency for Research on Cancers (IARC), Switzerland

16:30 – 16:40 Estimating the burden of cancer arising from occupational exposure to carcinogens
Prof Tim Driscoll
Sydney School of Public Health, University of Sydney, Australia

16:40 – 16:50 Recent status of mesothelioma and countermeasures on asbestos-related cancer at global and national levels
Prof Ken Takahashi
Sydney School of Public Health, University of Sydney, Australia

16:50 – 17:00 U.S. experience in prevention and control of occupational cancers
Linda Reinstein
Asbestos Diseases Awareness Organization (ADAO), United States of America
17:00 – 17:10  Respirable crystalline silica prevention — A global role for the NEPSI Project
Martin Isles
International NEPSI Council, United Kingdom

17:10 – 17:20  Asbestos regulation in Australia as a template in the global campaign
Michael Borowick
Australian Council of Trade Unions (ACTU), Australia

17:20 – 17:30  Good practice examples from the No Time To Lose Campaign in action
Graham Parker
Institution of Occupational Safety and Health (IOSH), United Kingdom

17:30 – 17:40  Roadmap on carcinogens
Jos de Lange
TNO, Netherlands

17:40 – 17:50  Eliminating exposures, preventing occupational cancer — A global programme
Dr Jukka Takala
International Commission on Occupational Health (ICOH), Singapore

Prof Sergio Lavicoli
International Commission on Occupational Health (ICOH), Italy

Prof Jorma Rantanen
International Commission on Occupational Health (ICOH), Finland

17:50 – 18:00  Moderated dialogue session and closing